Thanks for being a member of AIP!

The most important rule of order may not be written in any book –

Members have a right an efficient meeting!

The American Institute of Parliamentarians is an organization dedicated to helping you have more efficient meetings. AIP is unlike other parliamentary study organizations: here, you will learn different ways to handle problems, making you a more effective member, parliamentarian, or presiding officer for those organizations to which you belong.

Check out the page “Ten Key Differences Between Robert’s Rules of Order Newly Revised and the AIP Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure.” Having these tools in your parliamentary toolbox can make you a more effective parliamentarian.

If you’re ready to expand your knowledge of the various parliamentary authorities further, check out the bookstore, our correspondence courses, and consider working to earn or expand your AIP credentials.

Learn more about the future vision for AIP by checking out the Strategic Plan. And no matter what else you do, spend some time checking out our new and improved website! Many pages have ways for you to contribute – develop learning materials, participate in our new social media programs, or work on the next Annual Session. I look forward to seeing you soon.

Please do not hesitate to contact me at President@aipparl.org if I can provide any assistance.

In AIP friendship,

Kay Allison Crews, CP
President
