Dear AIP members,

What a lot there is to talk about! The past month has been one of sadness and loss for AIP. As you all have heard by now, for the first time in over 30 years, AIP was forced to cancel a practicum due to lack of registrations. There were several reasons for this cancellation; your Board will be discussing these reasons and considering steps to ensure this does not happen in the future.

AIP has also lost member Rhonda Clark-Randle, a dedicated and passionate member from Texas. Rhonda could always be depended upon for her artistic assistance, and did the graphics for the 2012 Annual Session in Fort Worth. She had begun to work on marketing materials for the 2016 Annual Session in Albuquerque; those initial logos will be used in her memory. Her enthusiasm and love of parliamentary procedure will be missed by many.

In addition to the sad, there has been good news, as well! The number who have renewed their membership, which had been lagging behind last year’s renewals to this point, have now surpassed last year’s number. But we could do better! If you are willing to contact those who have not yet renewed and encourage them to pay their dues, please contact me at president@aipparl.org. A list of ten members who have not yet renewed will be sent to volunteers willing to assist with calling these individuals. This is important work for the future financial health and stability of AIP.

This is important work for the future financial health and stability of AIP.

Important progress is being made on the educational front, as well. In addition to the various educational materials prepared by AIP, the organization has reprinted Demeter’s Manual of Parliamentary Law and Procedure. AIP owns the rights to this important work, which had not been in print for some time. Like all of the AIP materials, it is now available on Amazon, and through the AIP Bookstore on the website; best of all, AIP receives royalty payments for these materials! In fact, as of the end of May, AIP has earned about $800 in 2016 from the royalties on educational materials. Ann Rempel, Printed Materials Division Chair, and her dedicated team of authors, reviewers, and layout artists are to be commended for the various works available.

Board member Larry Cisar was instrumental in researching the options for AIP to use print-on-demand technology to eliminate the need for AIP to maintain physical inventory while expanding the reach of these materials through partnering with Amazon.com. His expertise, along with further proofreading and work on behalf of the Printed Materials Division formatting staff, ensured that AIP will have high-quality educational materials available to the general public, spreading our brand message and earning much-needed revenue for AIP.

A new printing partner has been identified for the Parliamentary Journal, with expected savings of about $1000/year.

Board members Mary Remson, Ann Guiberson, and Secretary Lucy Hicks Anderson have been working to identify a location for the 2017 Annual Session. After two years in the western part of the country, the committee is looking for us to return to the east coast in 2017.

And so attention turns to the 2016 AIP Annual Session and related activities in Albuquerque. Your Board will meet at 3:00 p.m. on Tuesday, August 2. Board meetings are open to all members of AIP, so come see your leadership as they tackle the business of the association. Something casual will be planned for that evening: probably drinks and dinner at a nearby restaurant in Old Town that your president checked out while visiting this spring. This will be a no-host event – just show up and visit with friends.

“Success is liking yourself...liking what you do...and liking how you do it.” --Maya Angelou

When I first read this statement, I thought immediately of myself, of course, but almost as quickly, of parliamentarians. There burns within us a cause...the likes of which are not found in the average person one meets on the street. That cause -- to promote democracy through debate and fairness; to give voice to the minority as well as the majority; and to save face for all through decorum and equitable procedures.

We can see immediate results – did the meeting run smoothly? Was the presiding officer impartial and competent? We don’t always like the style of a particular presiding officer or the outcomes of a particular meeting but we do like helping organizations develop and master procedures to achieve their goals. We like training presiding officers to become the best they can be.

We do like ourselves (and each other!), what we do and how we do it! We ARE successful!!

Will I see you in Albuquerque in August? I hope so!! Happy summer!!

Martha Haun, PRP, Editor

The Business Development Institute, open only to those parliamentarians with a parliamentary credential (from either AIP or NAP), will be held on Wednesday, August 3. The title of the BDI is “Doing It Right – Becoming a Professional Parliamentary Consultant.” And while new professional parliamentarians will find the workshop useful, there will lots of information for those who have been in practice for years!

In June, BDI Coordinator W. Craig Henry will be sending out a survey to all AIP credentialed parliamentarians. This survey will include a wide variety of topics – such as the first salary survey of professional parliamentarians done in several years. Results of this confidential survey will be distributed first at the BDI – so be sure to plan to attend to learn about this important work. (And be sure to respond to the survey when it is distributed!)

See the article elsewhere in this issue to find out more about the plans for the BDI.

The Annual Session itself will be held from August 4 through 6. Your Board made a number of decisions about the registration for the Annual Session. First of all, to encourage new attendees and new membership, nonmembers who join AIP will have a special rate that includes their first-year dues to join AIP. Additionally, for those who agree to receive materials only via electronic delivery, a $10 discount will be provided. Annual Session Coordinator (and new AIP member) Valoree Althoff has stepped into the large shoes left by former Coordinator Alison Wallis, who resigned to deal with family medical issues. Thanks to Valoree for filling in cheerfully and well, and to Alison for much of the groundwork that she laid.

This year, in keeping with the Annual Session theme of “Above it All,” the opening night event will be a dinner at High Finance restaurant at the top of Sandia Peak. Members will caravan to the base of the Sandia Mountains, just east of Albuquerque. From there, we will board the longest tramway in the country, 2.7 miles long and ascending 4,000 feet over a fifteen-minute ride to the Sandia Peak. The scenery on this ascent is gorgeous, especially at sunset.

High Finance, with a view of the 11,000 square miles of the mountains and valley below, is a lovely venue. This will be a memorable way to meet and greet your friends from around the country, and to truly be “Above it All!”

The Annual Session itself will have opportunities to meet and discuss the various issues that impact AIP, and excellent workshops and educational programs. For the first time in many years, a CPP exam is scheduled, as well.

The post-Annual Session meeting of the Board of Directors will be Sunday morning, August 7.

In a personal quest to get “Above it All,” a few individuals are contemplating staying over until Monday morning, August 8, and taking a hot air balloon ride. If you are interested in participating in this bucket list opportunity, write to your President at president@aipparl.org. She will let you know costs and be able to better determine if it is possible to have an all-AIP ridership!

This issue of the Communicator is the official call to the Annual Session. Look throughout this issue for information on registration, events, and proposed amendments to the Standing Orders and the Bylaws. And continue to check the AIP Facebook page for more information and updates on AIP events!

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PARLIAMENTARIANS
FIFTY-SEVENTH ANNUAL SESSION
AUGUST 4 - 6, 2016 ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO

Make plans now to participate in the 57th Annual Session of the American Institute of Parliamentarians (AIP). This year, we will be “Above it All” in the high-altitude city of Albuquerque, New Mexico.

The site of this year’s annual session will be the luxurious Hotel Albuquerque at Old Town. Our special room rate is $109 (plus tax), which includes free parking and complimentary in-room wifi.

Prior to the Annual Session a Business Development Institute will be held to assist parliamentarians credentialed by AIP or the National Institute of Parliamentarians in important aspects of their parliamentary business. This event will be held on Wednesday, August 3, 2016.

Also on August 3, 2016, a very special event will occur in our excursion to Sandia Peak. We will convoy to the mountain range, then take the Sandia Peak tramway (the longest in the US) to the crest, 10,378 feet above sea level. At the summit, we will enjoy a great view and multi-course meal at the High Finance restaurant. Register yourself and traveling companions for this evening in the most elevated company.

The three-day Annual Session will take place on August 4 through 6th. Highlights will be outstanding educational presentations for students at every level of knowledge as well as the business sessions themselves. Special pricing benefits super-early birds and new members. Register now for AIP’s premier annual event.

Whether you take a car, a plane, a train, or a hot air balloon, come to Albuquerque for AIP’s 57th Annual Session.

If Adopted:
Opinions Committee. All members of the opinions committee must hold status as CPP members.

Rationale:
Article XI, Section 3 states: “All committees shall have a minimum of three and a maximum of seven members.” Section 3.6 requires the opinions committee to have only three members. This seems an unnecessary constraint. If adopted, the opinions committee may have up to seven members, at the discretion of the president with the approval of the board.

Recommendation:
The amendment comes at the request of the opinions committee. The bylaws and standing orders committee recommends adoption.

There are a number of functions that lend themselves to being combined, and that would benefit from continuity. Some of these functions include the website, our branding and messaging, and our communications and interactions with members. Having an individual or team that develops expertise in marketing our events, and is responsible for the website, social media, and inter-organizational marketing will be an advantage.

Recommendation:
The bylaws and standing orders committee recommends adoption.

Current Language:

2.8 Youth Activities Committee. The youth activities committee shall develop and implement programs to encourage the membership, participation, and education of the youth members. The committee may provide scholarships to practicums, annual sessions, and other AIP educational events, which events have been approved by the board.

Proposed Changes:

2.8 Youth Activities and Scholarship Committee. The youth activities and scholarship committee shall develop and implement programs to encourage the membership, participation, and education of the youth members. The committee may provide scholarships in the form of registration and meals for practicums, annual sessions, and other AIP educational events, or in the form of membership dues, which events have been approved by the board.

If Adopted:

2.8 Youth Activities and Scholarship Committee. The youth activities and scholarship committee shall develop and implement programs to encourage the membership, participation, and education of the youth members. The committee may provide scholarships in the form of registration and meals for practicums, annual sessions, and other AIP educational events, or in the form of membership dues.

Rationale:

The addition of this program accomplishes many of the duties of the Youth Activities and Scholarship Committee with very little to no actual cost to AIP. It develops a plan for actively recruiting members from both college and high school communities. It encourages membership in AIP although it is a 12-15-year project before any actual results are available. It advertises the scholarship program as well as AIP in general to potentially over 4000 new students annually.

At the very least, this program would provide a targeted database identifying potential dues paying members and maintain their contact information until they reach an age of likely membership. It also promotes AIP over other organizations to 200-500 participants annually at each selected contest. Even if these participants never become dues paying members, they are more likely to hire professional parliamentarians because they have been exposed to the profession and if they do hire parliamentarians they are more likely to hire AIP members based on their frame of reference, further promoting the parliamentary profession throughout society. The down side to this project is that it is a 12-15-year project but other than the relatively small loss of dues from members who qualify for this program (which we currently believe is less than $200 annually) and the cost of adding these to the AIP electronic database, there is no cost associated with this proposal.

Recommendation:

The bylaws and standing orders committee has concerns about this amendment. First, the amendment removes the phrase “which events have been approved by the board.” The 2015 annual session considered combining the two committees and did not see the need to change the name of the committee, and this change is not necessary for the committee to discharge its duties. Also of concern is the administration of handling funds for dues: this proposal does not forgive dues – it requires the committee to take AIP funds from those earmarked for youth and scholarships and pay them as dues, which could also have legal implications. The bylaws and standing orders committee recommends rejecting the amendment to the bylaws and proposes a substitute for the proposed amendment to the standing orders.

If Adopted:
25.11 grant scholarships to participants in national level youth parliamentary procedure contests of organizations approved by the board of directors on an opt-in electronic only basis, renewable until the end of the membership year of the recipients 30th birthday.

---

The bylaws and standing orders committee recommends the adoption of the following substitute:

Current Language:
None.

Proposed Changes:
25.11 by request, grant complimentary electronic access to the AIP Communicator and Parliamentary Journal for participants, up to age 25, in national level youth parliamentary procedure contests of organizations approved by the board of directors.

If Adopted:
25.11 by request, grant complimentary electronic access to the AIP Communicator and Parliamentary Journal for participants, up to age 25, in national level youth parliamentary procedure contests of organizations approved by the board of directors.

Rationale:
The bylaws and standing orders committee does not share the vision of the youth activities committee, but sees electronic access to AIP’s publications as a good compromise. Giving away memberships for up to 15 years in the hope that someone might decide to convert it to a paying membership involves database adjustments and other administrative tracking that can be avoided by creating a complimentary subscription list. The committee recommends adoption of the proposed substitute above, and subsequent adoption of the amendment to the standing orders.

Recommendations:
The bylaws and standing orders committee recommends this amendment be adopted.

Fiscal Year. The fiscal year shall be from March 1 through the last day of February.

Rationale:

This motion was referred to the AIP board of directors by action of the 2015 annual session. The audit and the budget and finance committees studied the problem extensively, and reported to the board their recommendation that it not be adopted, because this will not solve the timeliness issues in AIP’s financial reporting.

Recommendations:

The bylaws and standing orders committee recommends this amendment not be adopted.

Rationale:

This motion was referred to the AIP board of directors by action of the 2015 annual session. The board proposes a secondary amendment as noted. Getting new signatures handled every time the officers change has proven to be overly burdensome and challenging, as banks often require proof of identity.

Recommendations

The bylaws and standing orders committee recommends adoption of the substitute and subsequent adoption of the amendment to the standing orders.

Current Language:

8.3 Reinstatement By Payment Of Delinquent Dues. A petition for reinstatement of membership shall detail the reasons for non-payment of dues and shall be accompanied by the dues which are then delinquent. In the case of certified members, there shall be an additional processing fee of $5.00 for each month, or fraction thereof, elapsed since the dues became delinquent.

Proposed Changes:

8.3 Reinstatement By Payment Of Delinquent Dues. A petition for reinstatement of membership shall detail the reasons for non-payment of dues and shall be accompanied by the dues which are then delinquent. In the case of certified members, there shall be an additional processing fee of $5.00 for each month, or fraction thereof, elapsed since the dues became delinquent.

Rationale:

This motion was referred to the bylaws and standing orders committee by action of the 2015 annual session. The original rationale was given as “to support easier access to membership in the event of loss of membership.”

Recommendation:

This provision deals with two separate situations. If a member allows AIP membership to lapse and then wants to be reinstated with continuing membership, it is only fair that the delinquent dues be paid. The other choice is to rejoin AIP and start the membership tenure over.
Proposal to Amend AIP Standing Orders

Certified members who allow their membership to lapse have also allowed their credentials to lapse. Standing order 8.4 allows the accrediting department to determine whether the member requesting reinstatement must provide additional information or retake the examination(s). Keeping up a credential is something that is necessary for many professional associations, and it is possible that a member originally passed the examination for CP or CPP under a totally different parliamentary authority or under different exam conditions than those present at the time the reinstatement request is made. Certified members should take their credentials seriously and not expect AIP to provide a revolving door.

The bylaws and standing orders committee believes that certified members who are thinking of dropping their membership should recognize that the cost to regain their continuing membership and credential will be significant, and therefore recommends a substitute, which includes an amendment to strike “petition” and insert “request” made at the 2015 annual session, ruled not in order by the chair, appealed, and the sustaining of the chair’s ruling, (which is likely why the subsequent motion to refer was adopted).

The bylaws and standing orders committee recommends the adoption of the proposed substitute, and subsequent adoption of the amendment to the standing orders.

Later this month, BDI Coordinator W. Craig Henry, CPP-T, PRP, will be sending out a survey to all AIP credentialed parliamentarians. This survey will include a wide variety of topics – such as the first salary survey of professional parliamentarians done in several years. Other topics will include fee structures, services provided, itinerant vs. stable clients served, etc.

Results of this confidential survey will be distributed first at the BDI – so be sure to plan to attend to learn about this important work. (And be sure to respond to the survey when it is distributed!)

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO
BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT INSTITUTE

Make plans to come to the 2016 Business Development Institute to be held August 3, 2016 immediately preceding this year's Annual Session. W. Craig Henry, CPP-T, PRP, is lining up several seasoned professional members to present varied topics on professionalism.

Kicking off the Institute will be Making the Transition – From Hobby to Business, an overview of the part-time parliamentarian who has decided to make professional parliamentary consulting a full- (or nearly full-) time profession. Rather than concentrating on just setting up the business, this section will examine the pitfalls—and potential pitfalls—that a person may encounter as you transition. It will also cover how to establish that you are a legitimate consultant and the dilemmas/ethical problems that may arise between the consultant and clients, other parliamentary consultants and your local and parent associations.

Next will be discussed Clients: How to find them, work with them and when to gently let them go. This section of the institute will focus on the various aspects and insight about clients, including:

1. Finding Clients: Using websites, social media, newsletters, podcasts, books, videos, referrals (and any other types of marketing)

2. Working with Clients: Services offered (Broad/Narrow), proposals, client etiquette, discovering client problems/needs, working with difficult clients

3. Parting ways with the Client: When it is time to say goodbye (either client or parliamentarian) and how not to “burn any bridges.”

After lunch we will delve into the Statistics of the Profession based on results of the AIP Professional Parliamentary Consultant Survey that will be held during June 2016. Some of the topics will cover fee structures, services provided, itinerant vs. stable clients served, etc.

Following the survey overview will be a Panel Discussion on working as a professional parliamentary consultant. Both “long time” consultants as well as “newbies” will discuss topics such as: How they got started; working as an Individual or working as part of a group; types of services performed; most unusual meeting handled; most memorable client (and why); and the infamous Q&A from the floor.

Finally, we will have an overview of Automated Software/Hardware Tools that the professional parliamentary consultant might use — whether they are a sole proprietor or a member of an organization. These may be used to facilitate working directly with clients, training, running their business, or as marketing tools.
