APPLICATION PACKET

TEACHER CREDENTIAL REQUIREMENTS

AIP Bylaws

III.4.4. Certified Parliamentarian-Teacher; Certified Professional Parliamentarian-Teacher.

A certified parliamentarian or a certified professional parliamentarian may be credentialed as a teacher of parliamentary procedure by successfully completing a program developed and maintained by the Education Department. The credential shall be awarded by the Accrediting Department on behalf of AIP. As appropriate, the individual so accredited may use the title Certified Parliamentarian-Teacher (CP-T) or Certified Professional Parliamentarian-Teacher (CPP-T).

Accrediting Department Teaching Requirements:

In order to achieve the “T” credential, members must successfully complete an AIP teachers’ course and provide documentation to the Accrediting Department detailing at least fifteen points of approved teaching experience. Teaching experience to be considered shall have been performed after completion of the teachers’ course and the earning of at least a CP credential and shall have occurred within the five years immediately prior to this application.

To qualify as teaching experience, teaching:

- Shall be performed for a group of at least seven students in the class;
- Shall be provided on a subject of parliamentary procedure (subject to final determination by the Accrediting Department);
- May involve the same material taught to different groups of students, however, the Accrediting Department may require that teaching experience occur in more than one type of education setting.
- Need not necessarily be performed in a “formal” classroom setting; workshops, community education programs, etc. may be counted.

A candidate may not use the credential until approved by the Accrediting Department.

Accrediting Department Forms:

Upon successful completion of the Teacher Certification Course and the accumulation of sufficient experience points after the earning of their CP designation, candidates applying for T certification shall complete the attached form and submit it to AIP headquarters. Applicants should follow the definitions given in the table below.

Activities done at a sponsored educational AIP event or annual session, identified by date and event, shall not require additional validation. Activities done for other organizations shall require validation.

Validation, when required, shall include the following:

- Date of activity
- Name and type of organization
- Activity time (hours or partial hours)
- Format of educational session (lecture, workshop, etc.)
- Validation of participation in activity (certificate, agenda, letter, etc.)
